SARTAC Fellows:
Advancing Self Advocacy through Leadership and Policy
About the Fellow

- Timotheus “T.J.” Gordon, Jr.
- Chicago, IL
- Disabled I AM
- My host is Candace Coleman, racial justice organizer at Access Living
Disabled I AM

• Multimedia project where people can use pictures and social media to talk about their disability identity

• Creates a discussion on connection between disability and other identities, like race, gender, and more
Products

• Photo shoots and virtual Disabled I AM picture frames

• The shoots and picture frames helped self-advocates be bold in expressing their disability pride
Disabled I AM and Future Employment

- Gain experience in web and content design, photography
- Potentially bring in more workers with disabilities in a front office position
- Understanding and advocating for workers with disabilities from many backgrounds
How Disabled I AM can help self-advocacy groups?

- Recruiting tool
- Empower people with disabilities to express themselves and their identities
- Explore disability in more ways than disability alone
RESOURCES CREATED

► One-pagers (by Advance Your Leadership Power and SARTAC)
  ► Summary of selected resources on disability and intersectionality from SARTAC website
► Resource List on Disabled I AM Website
Through Disabled I AM, people with disabilities created a space where they could define their experiences with having a disability in any way they want to.
Candace’s Role in Supporting T.J.

- Having T.J. as a SARTAC Fellow has changed Access Living, especially Advance Your Leadership Power, because he revived interest in the Disabled I AM campaign and the project has become an integral part of our racial and disability justice work.

- Disabled I Am has become a crucial part of recruiting for AYLP.
EMPLOYMENT RESULTS OR GOALS

- Because of Disabled I AM, and my previous work on disability and race, I would like to present to schools, businesses and more on including ALL people with disabilities in their group(s) or businesses

- Leadership/creative roles in a company where I can help advocate for disability community

- Working with leaders with disabilities to help people do well in any field
Disabled I AM video

DISABLED I AM

The movement to empower people to own their disability identity

#DISABLEDIAM
Q&A

You have Questions

We have Answers
This publication is supported in part by a cooperative agreement from the Administration on Intellectual and Developmental Disabilities, Administration for Community Living, U.S. Department of Health and Human Services. Grantees undertaking projects under government sponsorship are encouraged to express freely their findings and conclusions. Points of view or opinions do not, therefore, necessarily represent official Administration on Intellectual and Developmental Disabilities policy.
The Self Advocacy Resource and Technical Assistance Center (SARTAC) seeks to strengthen the self-advocacy movement by supporting self advocacy organizations to grow in diversity and leadership. The resource center is a project of Self Advocates Becoming Empowered (SABE), the oldest national self-advocacy organization in the country. SARTAC is a Developmental Disabilities Project of National Significance, funded by the Administration For Community Living – Administration on Intellectual and Developmental Disabilities (AIDD). The information in this product was written to provide guidance for self advocates and their allies to assist in understanding policy issues affecting their lives. It is not to be used to determine a person's legal rights or an organization's legal responsibilities under Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, as amended; the Americans with Disability Act of 1990, as amended or any other federal, state or local laws written to protect the rights of people with disabilities.